

CAUGHT DOING IT RIGHT

We would like to recognize the following businesses that have been audited between March 1, to June 6, 2001, and were found to be in full compliance with DCJS, Private Security Services Regulations and Laws. To the following businesses, Job well done! You should be proud of your accomplishments.

Absolute Security, Inc., Stafford, VA

An Added Value Investigative Security, Alliance, Inc. t/a AAVISA International, Annandale, VA

Allswell Detection Service, Inc., Springfield, VA

Ahmad, Nathir A t/a Statewide Law Enforcement Service, Chesapeake, VA

Alarm Service Technicians, Inc. t/a AST, Portsmouth, VA

Automation Precision Technology, LLC t/a APT, LLC., Virginia Beach, VA

Bageant, Michele Cross. t/a Apple Valley Investigation, Winchester, VA

Bluestone Security Agency, Inc., North Tazewell, VA

Brink's Inc., Chesapeake, VA

Built-In Systems, Inc., Virginia Beach, VA

Callahan, Paul A. t/a Eye Witnessed Investigations, Wytheville, VA

Central Virginia Investigations, LLC, Charlottesville, VA

Citywide Protection Services, Inc., Virginia Beach, VA

Chapman, Robert L t/a Advanced Investigations, Staunton, VA

Character Profiles, Inc., Richmond, VA

Celebrity Investigative Agency, Inc. t/a A Division of IYOBOSA Associates, Williamsburg, VA

Coleman, Jr. Arthur H. t/a Shadow Elite Protection Agency, Richmond.

Collins Consulting Services LLC, Richmond, VA

Charles K. Sciarini and Associates, LLC, Springfield, VA

CCTV Tech. Services, Inc., Springfield, VA

J. M. Richard Investigations, LLC, Yorktown, VA

Newell Communication, Inc., Richmond, VA

Munoz, Martha C. t/a Community Protection Program, Alexandria, VA

Parker, Stanley A. t/a Parker Security Agency, Dumfries, VA

The Richmond Group International, Inc., Woodbridge, VA

Securitylink From Ameritech, Inc., Oakbrook Terr, IL

Security Lock Service Corp., Mechanicsville, VA

REMINDERS

Compliance Coordinators: Please take the time to review and make the necessary corrections to your companies advertisements under the definition of "Business advertising material" meaning the display of advertisements in telephone directories, letterhead, business cards, local newspapers and contracts.

The Compliance Agent is responsible for ensuring that the Private Security Business is meeting the regulations and codes of Virginia. Whenever the compliance agent moves to a company it would be a sound practice to do an internal audit and determine if the Private Security Business is in compliance-if not in compliance the compliance agent should report it to DCJS.

CORRECTIONS

The following corrections are noted from the March 2001 Compliance & Enforcement Bulletin:

Carl J. Lowe was not the compliance agent during the period that G. S. Building System Corporation, Glen Allen was sanctioned as indicated in the March, 2001 Compliance & Enforcement Bulletin.

John E. Skowronski was not the compliance agent during the period that Homework, LLC was sanctioned as indicated in the March, 2001 Compliance & Enforcement Bulletin.

BUSINESSES SANCTIONED

Campbell Security Agency, Inc., Richard Campbell, owner and compliance agent, Washington, D.C., for failing to submit a VSP 167 Form on the first day of hire of an employee: a financial sanction of $100. For failing to submit a VSP 167 for 19 employees: a financial sanction of $425 and probation for one year.

Crestmark Security, Inc., Newport News, for operating without a valid DCJS business license: an order to cease and desist all unlicensed business activity and a financial sanction of $200.

Professional Security Corp., Ronald D. Flint, compliance agent, Roanoke, for failing to include a DCJS business license on business advertising materials: a financial sanction of $100.

Nightwatch, Inc., Kimberly Harrison, compliance agent, Lanham, MD, for operating without a valid license or certified compliance agent: a financial sanction of $250 and an order to cease and desist.

Wackenhut Corporation, Fairfax, for failure to submit 146, VSP167 and employing 20 individuals past ninety days without completing their compulsory minimum training and employing 14 without proper certification: financial sanction of $20,160 and 3 years of probation and an unannounced audit.

INDIVIDUALS SANCTIONED

Cody D. Adamson, Unarmed Security Officer for National Protective Services, Stafford, for working uncertified for more than 90 days: certification is suspended for one year. This suspension is stayed and Mr. Adamson is placed on a two year probation.

Winfred K. Anderson, Armed Security Officer, Norfolk, for carrying his firearm as to endanger the public, health or welfare: revocation.

* Indicates that the financial sanction has not been collected. If the person is still in the security industry in Virginia, steps are being taken to collect outstanding sanctions.

INDIVIDUALS SANCTIONED

(Continued)

Howard M. Blackman, Compliance Agent of Atlantic Home Security, Columbia, MD, for employing electronic security sales representatives, electronic security technicians, and electronic security employees prior to fingerprint submission, and for failing to submit fingerprint cards, and for employing electronic security technicians beyond the ninety days allowed before completing the compulsory training standards: probation for one year, a financial sanction of $1000 and an unannounced audit.

Patricia A. Brown, Private Investigator, College Park, MD, for submitting information to the Virginia State Police for potential investigation without a business license, and for advertising herself as a licensed Virginia Private Investigator: an order to cease and desist unlicensed business activity.

Ronald E. Buhite, Compliance Agent for Urban Security Service, Inc., Fredericksburg, for not including the DCJS business license number on all business advertising materials: agreement to ensure the company's compliance and ensure that no more violations occur.

Kevin Bukowski, Compliance Agent for Virginia Regional Security, Portsmouth, for failing to submit a VSP Form 167 for an employee on the date of hire: a financial sanction of $100. And for failing to terminate an unarmed security officer from working after finding out that he had a criminal history: one year probation and revocation of certification for any other violations.

Robert J. Cappello, Compliance Agent for Security Services of America L.L.C., Virginia Beach, for failing to ensure that an unarmed security officer conforms to administrative requirements: financial sanction of $250.

Jason L. Clement, Armed Security Officer for AI's Security Patrol, Richmond, for taking property of another while on duty, failing to make a lawful arrest, and endangering the welfare of the public: revocation of registration.

Brian Dempsey, Compliance Agent for Protect America, Round Rock, TX, for placing an advertisement without a DCJS license number: founded no sanction.

Doug Ellison, Compliance Agent of Alliance Services, Inc., Marietta, GA, for submitting late applications and fingerprint cards of employees; for employing those workers prior to submission; and also for employing a worker beyond the ninety days allowed while completing compulsory training standards: a financial sanction of $300.

Vincent Estep, Electronic Security Technician, Virginia Beach, due to criminal history: registration is revoked.

Andrew S. Gibbs, Armed Security Officer, Fairfax, for negligence in discharging a firearm: reprimand.

David M. Saint Gregory, Compliance Agent, All-Saint Limited, Falls Church, for advertising private security services without a valid license: formal reprimand and any further violations may result in suspension of license.

James L. Grimes, Unarmed Security Officer, Portsmouth, for not carrying a valid certification or photo private security identification card and for not wearing a proper DCJS regulation uniform: probation.

Kimberly R. Harrison, Compliance Agent for Nightwatch, Inc., Lanham, MD, for permitting Nightwatch, Inc. to operate without a valid license after it expired or certified compliance agent: a financial sanction of $150 and successful completion of compliance agent entry-level or rectification as a compliance agent. .

Timothy W. Haymore, Compliance Agent of American Security Group, Richmond, for employing an unregistered armed security officer: a financial sanction of $150 and probation for one year.

Claiborne E. Jackson, Jr., Compliance Agent of Jackson Security Systems, Chester, for the operation of a business without a valid license and employing an unregistered employee: a formal reprimand.

Ron Kent, owner of Kent CCTV, Valrico, FL, for soliciting business in Virginia without a valid DCJS license: an order to cease and desist all unlicensed activity.

Daryl D. Kinslow, Compliance Agent of Electronic Sound & Equipment Company, Raleigh, NC, for soliciting private security business in the Commonwealth of Virginia without having obtained a license from DCJS: an order to cease and desist all unlicensed business activity.

David A. Long, Sr., Private Investigator for Ethical Investigators, Inc., for failing to provide a client documentation of the terms he agreed to: a financial sanction of $100.

Gary J. McDougall, Armed Security Officer, Colonial Heights, for utilizing a firearm while on duty in a manner which endangered the public health safety and welfare: probation for one year and an order to retake handgun training within three months of execution of the order.

Jason R. Quintana, Electronic Security Technician, Chester, due to criminal history: revocation of registration.

Anthony William Santiago, Unarmed Security Officer, Clinton, MD, due to criminal history: revocation of certification.

Brian L. Sutton, Compliance Agent for National Protective Services, Fredericksburg, for employing an uncertified unarmed security officer for longer than ninety days, and for operating a business without a valid business license or compliance agent: the license of Mr. Sutton and National Protective Services, Inc., is suspended for two years. This suspension is stayed and National Protective Services, Inc., is placed on probation for a period of two years. In addition, a financial sanction of $250 is imposed.

Mark D. Wills, Private Investigator, Norfolk, for failing to provide a client a written agreement/contract specifying the scope of services and fees assessed for such services and failing to include the DCJS business license number on a contract: a financial sanction of $100.

Rhonda Winston, Unarmed Security Officer, Richmond, due to criminal history: revocation of registration.

David Yurchak, Compliance Agent, Wackenhut Corporation, Richmond, for failing to notify DCJS within ten calendar days of receiving knowledge that an armed security officer discharged his weapon: a financial sanction of $250.